Ingredients

300 g Chicken breast fillets
- Note: Slice the breast horizontally and flatten between baking paper to an even 1 cm thickness. Do not wash raw poultry.

150 g Jasmine rice
- Note: Dry weight. Rinse, then simmer as the packet directs.

200 g Green beans
- Note: Trimmed.

10 g Lemongrass
- Note: Tender inner part only, very finely minced.

7.5 g Galangal
- Note: Peeled and finely sliced. Ginger is the usual substitute at the same weight, and it is not the same flavour.

0.5 tbsp Palm sugar
- Note: Or an equal weight of light brown sugar.

0.75 tsp Ground cumin

0.75 tsp Ground coriander

1 tbsp Vegan red curry paste
- Note: Choose a paste without fish sauce or shrimp; check allergens and heat.

2 Bird's eye chillies
- Note: Slice. Seeds carry most of the heat. Wash hands after cutting.

0.5 tbsp Tamarind paste
- Note: Seedless tamarind paste, not a sweet drink.

7.5 g Thai basil
- Note: Not sweet basil. Ordinary basil is a different flavour.

7.5 g Fresh coriander
- Note: Washed and finely chopped.

20 g Unsalted roasted peanuts
- Note: Unsalted. Chop or crush them into the sauce.

0.5 tbsp Toasted sesame oil

Note: For the sauce. Do not use it as the frying oil.

2.5 tbsp Neutral cooking oil

Note: For example, rapeseed or sunflower oil.

75 ml Coconut milk

Note: Unsweetened canned coconut milk.

30 ml Vegetable stock

Note: Prepared liquid stock; use a vegan product and check its label for allergens.

40 g Plain flour

Note: For the coating batter.

70 g Vegan breadcrumbs

Note: Choose crumbs without milk or egg.

Method

1. Prepare your main

For 2 people, prepare 300 g chicken breast fillets. Slice the breast horizontally and flatten between baking paper to an even 1 cm thickness. Do not wash raw poultry. Wash and prepare the side vegetables; measure the separate portions listed in the steps. Keep raw animal ingredients and their utensils separate from the salad and cooked food.

2. Start the rice

Rinse 150 g Jasmine rice. Add to a saucepan with the water amount directed on the rice packet, bring to a boil, then cover and cook on the lowest heat for about 12-15 minutes or as the packet directs. Rest covered for 5 minutes, then fluff.

3. Crumb the schnitzel

Pat the prepared pieces dry. Whisk 40 g plain flour with 55 ml water to make a smooth, coating batter. Put 70 g vegan breadcrumbs in another shallow bowl. Dip the prepared chicken in the batter, let excess drip away, then press into the crumbs on both sides. Put on a clean tray and refrigerate for 5-10 minutes while making the sauce base, so the crumb adheres. Discard any leftover coating mixture that touched raw ingredients.

4. Make the regional sauce base

Heat 0.5 tbsp neutral cooking oil in the pan over medium-low heat; do not let it smoke. Add 10 g lemongrass, 2 bird's eye chillies, finely minced, grated or sliced as appropriate. Stir for 1-2 minutes until fragrant, without burning. Stir in 1 tbsp vegan red curry paste. Fry gently in the existing oil for 1-2 minutes, stirring constantly, until aromatic; lower the heat if it catches. Cook the paste before adding the liquid. Lower the heat. Stir in 0.75 tsp ground cumin, 0.75 tsp ground coriander for 15-20 seconds just until fragrant, then add the liquid promptly so the ground spices do not scorch. Pour in 30 ml vegetable stock, 75 ml coconut milk and stir, scraping the base of the pan. Bring to a gentle simmer. Add 7.5 g galangal. Keep the galangal slices intact enough to retrieve. Infuse at a gentle simmer for at least 5 minutes, leaving them in during the main's simmer when applicable. Stir in 0.5 tbsp palm sugar, 0.5 tbsp tamarind paste only after liquid is present. Dissolve over low heat for 1-2 minutes, stirring; keep sweet or salty condiments away from a dry, very hot pan. Take off the heat and cover the base briefly while cooking the main; leave the delicate finishing ingredients for the final sauce step.

5. Shallow-fry until crisp
Heat the 2 tbsp neutral cooking oil allocated to the main in a wide frying pan over medium heat. Fry the crumbed pieces in uncrowded batches for about 9-15 minutes total, turning carefully halfway, until golden on both sides. Reduce the heat if the crumbs brown too quickly. Check several thickest pieces with a clean food thermometer: the centre must reach 75°C. Continue cooking if needed. Drain briefly on a rack or kitchen paper.

6. Steam the green beans
Trim 200 g green beans. Steam for 5-7 minutes until tender with a little bite; keep warm briefly while finishing the main.

7. Finish the regional sauce
With the cooked main and side ready, gently warm the separate sauce base if needed. After the sauce has simmered, lift out and discard the woody pieces of galangal before the final garnishes; do not eat these whole aromatic pieces. Off the heat, stir in or scatter over 20 g unsalted roasted peanuts. Chop the roasted nuts. Off the heat, fold in 7.5 g thai basil, 7.5 g fresh coriander, 0.5 tbsp toasted sesame oil. Wash and finely chop the fresh produce first. Add the toasted sesame oil only as a finishing seasoning, not as frying oil. Keep the sauce alongside the crisp coating, adding it only at the table.

8. Bring the meal together
Keep the fully cooked main with any integrated sauce, plus the fluffy Jasmine rice and steamed green beans, ready for the final regional finish assembly. The sauce for this meal is red curry paste, coconut milk & tamarind paste sauce. Follow the final step below before serving.

9. Assemble the finished meal
Plate the fully cooked main and its selected side, keeping their preparation as written. No extra ingredient is needed for this finish. Keep the sauce beside the crisp coating. Serve promptly after this final assembly; the finishing ingredients are already prepared.

Method notes

The regional base cooks before the delicate finishing ingredients; finish those only when the main and side are ready.

Food safety

Check several thickest pieces with a clean food thermometer: the centre must reach 75°C. Continue cooking if needed. Timing is a guide: thickness, equipment and batch size change cooking time. Keep raw animal ingredients separate from ready-to-eat food and wash hands, utensils and work surfaces after handling them.
