Japanese roast chicken with rice & greens

Template-generated - not kitchen-tested. Check the packet.

1 servings · about 133 minutes · balanced · medium

Japanese roast chicken with rice & greens. Chicken · roasted with fluffy Japanese short-grain rice, steamed green beans and miso, yuzu kosho & spring onion sauce. A complete meal built around your chosen main and cooking method.

Equipment

Chopping board and knife · Saucepan with lid · Steamer or colander over a saucepan · Sturdy tongs and large pot or tin sized for a whole bird · Food thermometer · Small mixing bowl · Small saucepan · Baking tray or ovenproof dish · Deep roasting tin with rack

Recorded allergens: celery, sesame, soy, wheat. Check product labels and prevent cross-contact.

Ingredients

1 Whole chicken
- Note: Use the whole bird (whole chicken). Check the cavity is empty. Do not wash raw poultry. A whole bird takes longer than fillets. Buy 1 whole chicken, about 1.5-1.8 kg each. The whole-bird shopping quantity is rounded up; portion the cooked meat for this meal and refrigerate surplus promptly. Use the actual bird weight and packet directions to adjust the estimate; do not shorten cooking just because fewer people are eating. Check the packet. This name does not confirm a breed or a marble grade.

75 g Japanese short-grain rice
- Note: Dry weight. Rinse, then simmer as the packet directs.

100 g Green beans
- Note: Trimmed.

3.75 g Garlic
- Note: Peeled and finely minced.

3.75 g Fresh ginger
- Note: Peeled and finely grated.

0.38 tbsp White miso
- Note: Use a rice-based miso; check the label for other allergens.

0.5 tbsp Soy sauce

0.25 tsp Shichimi togarashi
- Note: Japanese seven-spice. It contains chilli and usually sesame. Check the label.

0.06 tsp Sansho pepper
- Note: Japanese pepper. It tingles. It is not a chilli.

0.25 tbsp Yuzu kosho
- Note: Chilli and yuzu peel. A little is enough. Check the label.

0.25 tbsp Rice vinegar

3.75 g Spring onion
- Note: Washed and finely chopped.

0.25 tbsp Toasted sesame seeds
- Note: Use ready-toasted seeds.

0.25 tbsp Toasted sesame oil

Note: For the sauce. Do not use it as the frying oil.

0.75 tbsp Neutral cooking oil

Note: For example, rapeseed or sunflower oil.

30 ml Vegetable stock

Note: Prepared liquid stock; use a vegan product and check its label for allergens.

Method

1. Prepare your main

For 1 person, prepare 1 whole chicken. Use the whole bird (whole chicken). Check the cavity is empty. Do not wash raw poultry. A whole bird takes longer than fillets. Buy 1 whole chicken, about 1.5-1.8 kg each. The whole-bird shopping quantity is rounded up; portion the cooked meat for this meal and refrigerate surplus promptly. Use the actual bird weight and packet directions to adjust the estimate; do not shorten cooking just because fewer people are eating. Wash and prepare the side vegetables; measure the separate portions listed in the steps. Keep raw animal ingredients and their utensils separate from the salad and cooked food.

2. Make the regional sauce base

Heat 0.25 tbsp neutral cooking oil in the pan over medium-low heat; do not let it smoke. Add 3.75 g garlic, 3.75 g fresh ginger, finely minced, grated or sliced as appropriate. Stir for 1-2 minutes until fragrant, without burning. Pour in 30 ml vegetable stock and stir, scraping the base of the pan. Bring to a gentle simmer. Stir in 0.5 tbsp soy sauce only after liquid is present. Dissolve over low heat for 1-2 minutes, stirring; keep sweet or salty condiments away from a dry, very hot pan. Take off the heat and cover the base briefly while cooking the main; leave the delicate finishing ingredients for the final sauce step.

3. Roast the main

Read the later side-finishing steps now: they need about 7 minutes before service, alongside the main's final cooking/rest. Start longer side actions before this stage if the main cooks more quickly. Cook the whole bird unstuffed, with the cavity empty, in a deep roasting tin. Pat the skin dry and brush with 0.5 tbsp neutral cooking oil. Heat to 180°C conventional (160°C fan) and roast breast-side up on the rack. Allow about 87-93 minutes for each 1.5-1.8 kg bird, checking early and following the packet for its actual weight. Space multiple birds in separate tins; extra batches take longer. Check the thickest part of both breast and inner thigh with a clean thermometer, without touching bone: both must reach 75°C. Continue cooking and recheck if either is below this endpoint. Keep the regional sauce separate.

4. Near the end: prepare the side ingredients

Prepare sides alongside the main: begin this side during the final 12 minutes of the main cooking stage, allowing the bird's rest where applicable. Wash and dry the produce and use a clean board. Prepare these listed portions once; later steps use the same portions, not additional ingredients. 100 g green beans: Trimmed. Read all side steps first: start long-cooking grains or roasting first, and overlap independent pan/steamer work so the components finish together. Keep cold products and undressed salad chilled until the final assembly. Follow this side's own serving instructions.

5. Start the rice

Prepare sides alongside the main: Continue these side steps during that same cooking window; do not wait until the main is finished. Rinse 75 g Japanese short-grain rice. Add to a saucepan with the water amount directed on the rice packet, bring to a boil, then cover and cook on the lowest heat for about 12-15 minutes or as the packet directs. Rest covered for 5 minutes, then fluff. Follow this side's own serving instructions.

6. Rest and carve the whole bird

Once both breast and thigh have reached 75°C, rest the bird loosely covered for 15 minutes, then carve with clean utensils, discarding bones. Finish the side during this rest so carved poultry is served promptly. Portion only what is needed for this meal; refrigerate surplus promptly in shallow containers.

7. Steam the green beans

Start these side-finishing actions about 7 minutes before serving, overlapping the main's final cooking or rest. For a main that cooks faster than this, begin these actions before starting the main. Trim 100 g green beans. Steam for 5-7 minutes until tender with a little bite; keep warm briefly while finishing the main.

8. Finish the regional sauce

With the cooked main and side ready, gently warm the separate sauce base if needed. Once the sauce base is ready, take the pan off the heat. Loosen 0.375 tbsp white miso, 0.25 tbsp yuzu kosho with a spoonful of the warm cooked sauce, then stir it all back in. Keep this sauce gentle rather than bringing it back to a hard boil, to retain the delicate aroma. Off the heat, add 0.25 tbsp rice vinegar gradually. Fold through the cooked sauce and taste before adding extra seasoning. Off the heat, stir in or scatter over 0.25 tsp shichimi togarashi, 0.0625 tsp sansho pepper, 0.25 tbsp toasted sesame seeds. Off the heat, fold in 3.75 g spring onion, 0.25 tbsp toasted sesame oil. Wash and finely chop the fresh produce first. Add the toasted sesame oil only as a finishing seasoning, not as frying oil. Finish and plate immediately so the fresh seasoning stays bright.

9. Bring the meal together

Divide the fluffy Japanese short-grain rice and steamed green beans between 1 plate. Add the roasted chicken and miso, yuzu kosho & spring onion sauce. Taste the cooked sauce before adding any extra seasoning. Serve promptly.

Method notes

The regional base cooks before the delicate finishing ingredients; finish those only when the main and side are ready.

Food safety

Check the thickest part of both breast and inner thigh with a clean thermometer, without touching bone: both must reach 75°C. Continue cooking and recheck if either is below this endpoint. Timing is a guide: thickness, equipment and batch size change cooking time. Keep raw animal ingredients separate from ready-to-eat food and wash hands, utensils and work surfaces after handling them.

Shared from Fusion Table. This file is the template, not a kitchen test.